

SYNDICATE

SYNDICATE is a Los Angeles-based jazz quintet led by trumpeter Massimo Paparello. The group performs original compositions shaped collectively by its members, drawing from a wide range of influences across modern jazz, bebop, and contemporary improvised music. Writing is shared within the ensemble, resulting in material that reflects multiple compositional voices rather than a single perspective.

With instrumentation of trumpet, alto saxophone/flute, piano, bass, and drums, SYNDICATE emphasizes interactive ensemble playing, detailed arrangements, and open improvisation. The result is a repertoire that shifts between structured writing and spontaneous improvisation, highlighting the voice of each player within a cohesive identity.
